

Welcome To July

Hip, Hip, Hooray! You've done great things. The whole world is proud of you today. You've learned so much. You studied hard. And put your brains to the test. You played on the team. Of course the time comes when a curious monkey needs to break free. Even if it means you don't know exactly where you're going or will come next. So much to see! So much to try! What should you do? It's up to you.
